Fuzhou city located between Shanghai and Hong Kong belongs to economic block, an area with strong ties with Taiwan. The subway station is planned to be built at the north bank of Minl Jiang - main area of Fuzhou city. With advantages of waterfront area, an attractive and advanced financial CBD (Central Business District) was developed under the ground.

The urban area is connected to the river through an underground arterial load along the river.

There is also the bank under design by Nikken Sekkei Group.
