Amoy city is a port town where has been developed to trade with foreign countries for a long time ago. The project site is located at the mainland coming across the sea from Amoy Island, and a hilly area surrounded by the lakes. A new urban area was developed to supplement Amoy Island where is getting overcrowded. The hilly terrain at the center of the project site was developed for the residential houses. The lakes were land-filled to build a lot of islands, and there is a business district around the canal. The green island with public transportation designed mainly for pedestrians was developed under the ground.
