The resort development site, Ha Tay Province is located 40km southwest of Hanoi and characterized by precipitous limestone rocky hill, beautiful lake, and noble rural zone. The golf course, amusement park, and villas were built in these natural environments. And, traffic network was also developed across a wide area, in consideration of regional development. For each plan site divided into three areas, we developed the landscape planning that utilizes its own topography. In addition, we established the guideline for landscape forming to successfully complete this project.
